WASHINGTON (AP)—Four years ago Congress handed the government a harpoon to stick in the Communist party. It will be many months, perhaps years, before the government knows whether the harpoon has a real barbed point.

In 1950 Congress passed the Internal Security Act to force the party to register with the Justice Department as a Russian agent and at the same time give a list of its officers and members.

The party said at once it would never register. To register would be to admit that the American Communist party was a Moscow tool bent on overthrowing the government.

Courts Convict 542 In Criminal Tax Violations

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department's Tax Division reported today that 542 persons were successfully prosecuted for criminal violations of the federal tax laws in 1954.

These convictions and guilty pleas stemmed from investigations initiated by both the present and previous administrations and brought into court during the year.

A report to Atty. Gen. Brownell said that during 1954 the division brought to a close more than 4,150 civil and criminal tax cases, about 25 per cent more than in any previous year, and received more than 4,300 cases, about the same as the previous high in 1953.

Asst. Atty. Gen. H. Brian Holland, who heads the Tax Division, said that of the successful prosecutions, 123 persons were convicted after trial and 419 others pleaded guilty. He said this compared with 70 convicted and 423 pleading guilty in 1953 and 53 convicted and 324 pleading guilty in 1952.

About 7,150 tax cases of all types are currently pending in the courts, including 960 criminal, 3,665 civil and 2,525 tax lien and miscellaneous cases.

In a statement reviewing the year, Holland said:

"Among those convicted during the year were Frank Costello, New York gambler; Joseph D. Nunan Jr., former commissioner of internal revenue; Emmett Warring, Washington, D.C., gambler; Sam Bear, an associate of Warring; Harry Gross, New York bookmaker; Frank Erickson, New York gambler; Benny Binion, Southwest gambler; Harry J. Klein, Louisville, Ky., banker; Paul Dillon, St. Louis, Mo., attorney; J. Richard Kafes, New Jersey state senator; Harold Adonis, New Jersey political figure; Alfred C. Marshall, San Francisco bookmaker; Frank L. Sauter, Oakland, Calif., narcotics peddler.

"Among those indicted for violating the tax laws were George B. Parr, political figure of Duval County, Tex.; Carroll E. Mealey, former deputy commissioner of internal revenue; Hyman H. Klein, New York City whiskey dealer; Jack Dragna, Los Angeles racketeer; Evan Dale, convicted southern Illinois labor racketeer; Virginia Hill Hauser, confidante of racketeers; and Cecil and Fred Folsom, brothers of the governor-elect of Alabama."

Doom Predicter At East Lansing Gets Sanity Test

LANSING (AP)—Probate Judge John McClellan said today he did not expect an immediate mental test would be given to Mrs. Lillian Laughead, wife of a former Michigan State College physician fired for preaching world disaster.

The doctor's sister has petitioned the court to hospitalize Dr. Charles A. Laughead and his wife as mentally ill. Judge McClellan ordered two specialists to examine Dr. Laughead immediately and to report to the court on Friday.

"I don't believe we will proceed with the wife's case until we dispose of the husband's," the judge said.

Dr. Laughead has been in the news recently for his predictions of disaster and a Christmas Eve trip to Chicago reportedly to be "lifted up" by flying saucers from outer space.

Moslem Plotters Hanged In Cairo

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—A military tribunal today sentenced five more leaders of the fanatic Moslem brotherhood to death by hanging and handed prison terms ranging from five years to life to 20 others. Four got suspended sentences.

Scores of Egyptians belonging to the middle east religious-political organizations have been hauled before special courts since Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser's government cracked down on it early this month and executed six top officials. They were charged with an assassination plot against Nasser and others.

DUNKIRK, N. Y. (AP)—Seventeen crewmen were injured early today when a 65-car Nickel Plate railroad freight train smashed into a standing six-car wrecking train.

Republicans Give Up State Offices

LANSING (AP)—Aud. Gen. John B. Martin reported today substantial weaknesses in the Secretary of State Department's accounting practices.

At the same time Secretary of State Owen J. Cleary said his agency had become "a highly efficient business instrumentality of state government."

Both Martin and Cleary are Republicans and, having been defeated at the Nov. 2 election, leave office Friday.

Cleary, in a farewell year-end statement, pointed to reorganization of his department from 14 to five divisions.

He said "the philosophy of efficiency and economy in the public interest has been achieved."

Martin's auditors reported loose practices in recording money receipts, no control for accounts receivable is maintained, no records were available to show whether the correct amount of driver license fees was received, failure to check weights on car license applications "can result in fraud and misappropriation of funds," and said dealer license fees are not properly accounted for.

Martin's office said no shortages were disclosed.

Cleary pointed with pride to the creation of a central driver license file, designed to weed out motorists with bad driving records.

He said more than 12,000 drivers were called before examiners for repeated violations, 8,000 of whom suffered suspension or revocation of their licenses and 4,000 of whom were placed on probation.

Police finally had to agree. They couldn't find a law against it and Pattavino was set free to return to the chilly surf.

Winter Brings Rain Over Wide Areas Of Nation

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wet weather — rain, sleet or snow — was in prospect for broad areas of the nation today.

Rain fell from the central Gulf Coast northward into the lower Great Lakes region, with heavy falls in some areas.

Warm, moist air from the Gulf and the southern Atlantic Ocean spread early today over the Southeast section and extended into northern parts of the Ohio River Valley and eastward to the Atlantic Coast.

The leading edge of cold Canadian air extended westward across southern New England to the lower Great Lakes area and southwestward through central Illinois to southwestern Texas.

Snow, rain and sleet was reported in the cold air belt, about 250 miles wide and extended northward from northwestern Arkansas and eastern Kansas across most of Missouri, southeastern Iowa, northern Illinois, southern Wisconsin and most of Lower Michigan into western New York.

Rain fell in the southern part of the precipitation belt while light snow fell in the northern areas. There was a narrow band of freezing rain between the rain and snow.

Holiday Traffic Death Toll 392

CHICAGO (AP)—Delayed reports of accidents in Texas and Indiana have brought the traffic death toll for the Christmas holiday to 392.

This was the biggest toll on record for a two-day Christmas weekend, and 22 more deaths than the National Safety Council had predicted for this Christmas.

The number killed in all types of accidents over the weekend totaled 515—also a new record for a two-day Christmas holiday. This figure included 63 persons who died in fires and 60 who died in miscellaneous mishaps between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday local time.

Previous high for a 54-hour Christmas survey was 277 dead in traffic and 396 from all accident causes in 1948.

This Christmas Texas led all states with 35 traffic deaths and California was second with 29.

LANSING (AP)—J. Joseph Herbert of Manistique will seek his third term as a regent of the University of Michigan.

William J. Netter of Gaylord, president of the 24-county northern Michigan Republican Assn., said the association will sponsor Herbert's renomination at the Republican State Convention in Detroit Feb. 19.

Herbert served as chairman of the board of regents for the past seven years. An attorney, he is a past state commander of the American Legion, former president of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau and served as legal adviser to former Gov. Harry F. Kelly.

He also has been a member of the Republican State Central Committee. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan.

Peron Renews Fight To Oust Catholic Clergy

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Government authorities announced today the dismissal of 45 professors, including five Roman Catholic priests, from the National University of Cordoba.

The wholesale firings, carried out by a special representative of President Juan D. Peron, were a result of the bitter dispute between the Peron government and part of the Catholic clergy in Argentina. Cordoba and its university are considered a chief center of Catholic strength.

Peron recently has been waging a campaign against some Catholic priests, accusing them of attempting political infiltration of labor unions in an attempt to harm his government. The government also is trying to root out church influence from the Cordoba university and other schools, especially in religious education.

Benzie County Wants Jet Base

FRANKFORT (AP)—Benzie County still seeks Air Force reconsideration of the county's Homestead site as the location of an $8,635,000 jet plane base, awarded to Wexford County earlier this month.

The Benzie Base Committee met Monday night to decide its course of action if a congressional investigation of the jet base selection, proposed by Rep. Ruth Thompson (R-Mich.), is started next month.

Edward C. Kilian, chairman of the Benzie committee, said committee members are prepared at any time to go to Washington to testify or give information regarding the jet base.

Kilian said the Benzie location had been the top Air Force choice since last June and added that the committee had been so informed by Rep. Thompson and Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich.).

Members of the base committee conferred in August with Air Secretary Talbot, who assured them the Homestead site as the favored spot, Kilian declared.

He said the Benzie site still was favored early in December, less than a week before the Air Force announced the base was awarded to the Cadillac area of Wexford County.

Flint Boy Convicted In Shooting Spree; 3 Persons Wounded

FLINT (AP)—Henry Williams, 18, of Flint, was convicted Monday of assault with intent to kill in a shooting spree in which three persons were wounded last June 27.

Circuit Judge Stephen J. Roth set sentencing for Jan. 2. Judge Roth said Williams "definitely is in need of psychiatric treatment."

Two children and a 58-year-old woman were wounded as Williams fired a .22 calibre rifle 30 times while walking down a Flint street.

Arms Pact Still Awaits O. K. In Paris Assembly

PARIS (AP)—Premier Pierre Mendes-France appeared today to have won three fourths of his battle for French Assembly approval of West German rearmament. But the last quarter may be the most difficult of all.

The Assembly by a 289-251 vote gave preliminary approval Monday night to a third of the four Paris treaties, this one to admit West Germany into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Mendes-France had made the issue a question of confidence in his government, staking his Cabinet's life on its passage.

Set For Wednesday

The Premier still must win from the reluctant lawmakers two more confidence votes on the interlocking accords to free West German troops in Western defense. Both ballots are scheduled Wednesday.

Still at stake is the key pact setting up a seven-nation West European Union with power to control the arms and armaments of member countries. It is this treaty which actually provides for West German rearmament. The Assembly stunned Mendes-France and alarmed Washington and London last Friday by turning down this accord 280-259 on its first reading. The Premier early today submitted a revised bill calling for its ratification as a confidence question.

The second confidence vote Wednesday is on final ratification to the admission of West Germany into NATO. Monday night's vote came on the separate paragraphs of the ratification bill, not the measure as a whole. Its approval Wednesday is considered a certainty.

Majority Short

The Assembly's preliminary approval of the NATO agreement cheered U.S. officials. A statement from the holiday White House in Augusta, Ga., said President Eisenhower was "gratified." Several senators in Washington hailed the vote but high administration figures refrained from joining in the rejoicing until after Wednesday's balloting.

The action meant that after more than a week of debate and parliamentary maneuvering, the Assembly now has given at least tentative approval to three of the four treaties. The deputies last Friday okayed a French-German accord on the future of the disputed Saar and the pact giving West Germany almost complete sovereignty.

The Premier's 289 supporters fell 25 short of a majority of the 627-seat chamber and far under the 350 he had asked as a clear sign of French determination to preserve the Atlantic Alliance. But the number of abstentions allowed him to win without gaining a majority of all the deputies.

Carrier Midway Guards Pacific

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—The aircraft carrier Midway was en route to the Pacific today with a promise from her skipper to "help stand guard in the Far East" against the Communists "with quiet dignity and strength."

"We pray that the Chinese Communists won't start a fight — but if they do we will fight back," Capt. Reynold D. Hogle told the crowd of well-wishers who saw the 45,000-ton flattop off here Monday.

The Midway, which has called Norfolk her home port for approximately 10 years, is heading for immediate duty with 7th Fleet vessels guarding the Formosa Straits.

Coincident with her departure Monday it was revealed that the carrier Coral Sea will follow her to the West Coast in the spring of 1957.

PREMIER ON SPOT — France's powerful independent deputies threw their support to Premier Pierre Mendes-France, above, in the French Assembly's vote on the German rearmament agreements. Assistant Rector Of Church Found Beaten To Death

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Police investigating a minor auto accident early today found the assistant rector of old St. Peter's Episcopal church beaten to death in his bachelor apartment.

Patrolmen Joseph Nicholl and Meyer Weise said the body of the Rev. Dr. Benjamin H. Bissell, 59, was clad only in a T-shirt when they found him sprawled on a bed in the apartment about 3 a.m. Doctors said later he had been dead about an hour.

Placed under police guard at Jefferson Hospital was James Morrison, 26, whom police said had been released from prison three months ago after serving a term for burglary.

Morrison, according to Nicholl and Weise, was removed from the wreckage of a car that skidded on a downtown street and crashed into a brick wall a few blocks from the church and Dr. Bissell's apartment about 2:30 a.m.

They quoted Morrison as saying he had been drinking Monday night, could not remember what happened but thought he had been injured in a fall. Morrison was suffering from cuts of the head, hands and face and a back injury.

Police searching the wrecked car found cards indicating it was owned by Dr. Bissell. They also found a clergyman's white and purple stole, and a wristwatch with its leather strap torn. Watch and strap were bloodstained. It was after these discoveries that officers went to Dr. Bissell's apartment.

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP)—A power line wire carrying 25,000 volts was ripped loose by high wind Monday and fell across the hood of a police car in which officers Thomas Bartholemew and Herman Grimm were riding. They froze in their seats, keeping hands away from the doors.

They warned passersby to stand clear, lest someone be electrocuted. After 10 minutes line crews cut off the power and the policemen were able to get out of the car.

He got a pretty good percentage for 1954, the second year of the offer. Eight of the nine who took the pledge kept it. He posted the offer again for 1955 Monday.

The first year only six out of 19 who signed up made it. Biddle got the idea in 1952 when he paid $100 to his brother, Van, one of the factory workers for swearing off.

He still lets men smoke in the plant but won't hire women who smoke or men who chew tobacco.

Mott Is Winner Of Big Brother Award For 1954

FLINT (AP)—Charles S. Mott, a General Motors Corp. director and Flint philanthropist, has been named "Big Brother of the Year."

The 79-year-old Mott will receive the award from President Eisenhower at the White House Jan. 11. He was chosen by directors of the Big Brothers of America and Canada for assistance given to fatherless boys.

Mott, who spends more than $500,000 yearly on youth activities in Flint, was cited specifically for establishment of the Flint Youth Bureau, which helps combat delinquency by recruiting young adult volunteers to help fatherless boys solve their problems.

Mott, one of the early investors in General Motors, is founder and principal contributor to the Mott Foundation, which supports many Flint projects, including Mott Children's Health Center in a wing of Hurley Hospital. It also supports a camp for underprivileged boys.

Other Big Brother award winners have included Supreme Court Justice Tom Clark, FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover, Chief Justice Earl Warren, then governor of California, and Eddie Rickenbacker, president of Eastern Air Lines.

Farm Boy Dies In Blazing Barn

ST. JOHNS (AP)—A 9-year-old farm boy died when he was trapped in a blazing barn near St. Johns Monday afternoon.

The victim was Joseph Dean Weaver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn B. Weaver of Rte. 2, St. Johns. A brother, Robert, 15, received head, face and arm burns and was taken to the Clinton Memorial Hospital at St. Johns. His condition was not serious.

Firemen said the brothers discovered the fire in an oat bin. The younger brother caught his foot in a crack and the older brother, unable to free him, ran to the house for help.

The younger brother wrenched his foot free but apparently panicked, firemen said, and climbed into the barn loft to hide behind some baled hay. Neighbors ripped out sheet iron siding and found the boy's body huddled in the loft. Firemen said he apparently died from suffocation.

The 40 by 20-foot barn was destroyed. Two head of cattle, two tractors, other farm machinery and a quantity of hay and grain also were destroyed by the fire.

Must License, Confine Dogs

Owners of dogs four months old and over must have them licensed, and all dogs must be confined to the premises of the owner or be kept within the immediate control of the owner.

Attention of the public was directed today to the state law regarding dogs by Orrie Switzer, Gladstone, Delta County dog warden.

The owner must see that his dog is licensed and that the license is worn on the dog's collar. "On and after June 15, 1955, all dogs in Delta County not having 1955 license will be picked up and destroyed," Switzer announced.

Township and city treasurers now have the dog licenses on hand. The cost of the license is $1 for male dogs and $2 for females until March 1, 1955. After that date, licenses can only be purchased from the office of the Delta County treasurer in the Court House, and the fee increases to $2 for male and $4 for female dogs.

The county dog warden requests dog owners cooperate and get licenses now, before the March 1 date when the price increases.

Dogs are not allowed to run at large at any time, even if they have a license, and the animals must be confined to the premises or be within the immediate control of the owner, Switzer added.

Vatican Excuses Catholics From Abstinence Friday

The Vatican has dispensed all Catholics from abstinence on Friday Dec. 31, New Year's Eve, the chancery office of the Catholic Diocese of Marquette has announced.

The action was taken in a decree of the Sacred Congregation of the Council in Rome. The decree permits Catholic to eat meat on Friday, Dec. 31, without further action by their Bishops.

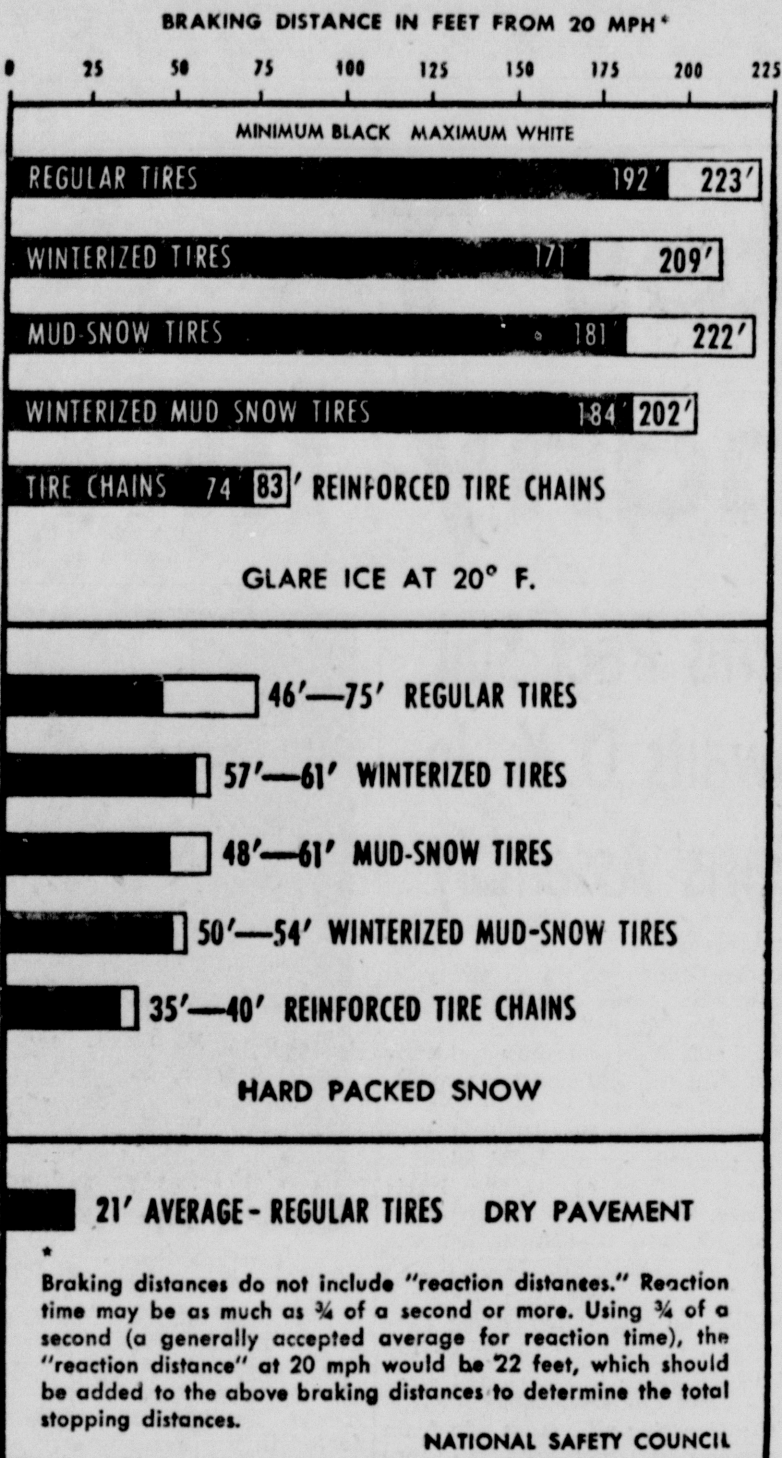

The decree explains that the dispensation was granted at the request of many Bishops. They made the request, the decree says because the last day of the year, the Feast of St. Sylvester, Pope-Confessor, is observed in many countries as a day of thanksgiving for the year's blessings.

The decree is dated Dec. 22 and is signed by His Eminence Pietro Cardinal Ciriaci, prefect of the congregation and Msgr. Francesco Roberti, secretary.

Weather Here Is Seasonably Cold

Escanaba's weather may be cold and cloudy—but it's seasonable. Elsewhere across most of the United States it was either unseasonably hot or cold or unseasonably wet or dry.

S. E. Decker, U. S. Weather Bureau meteorologist, reported that Michigan can expect weather 2 to 4 degrees above normal for this season of the year, with some snow beginning Friday or Saturday, in a five-day weather outlook for the period Dec. 28-Jan. 3.

The cold and cloudy weather will continue through Wednesday, but the wind will diminish tonight. The high temperature tomorrow will reach about 26 degrees.

While the Escanaba area is enjoying its seasonable cold and cloudy climate, the rest of the country is plagued by a variety of weather.

Down in Louisiana it rained more than three inches; the rain totaled nearly two inches at Evansville, Ind.; Snow was 2 to 3 inches deep in Nebraska, 1 to 3 inches deep in west-central Texas and southeast New Mexico.

The northwest region had temperatures as low as 36 below zero (Yellowstone Park), and 4 below at Denver.

Nearer home the weather brought snow to Milwaukee, Green Bay, Muskegon and Alpena. They all had over an inch of new snow this morning.

Congo Described For Kiwanians

Preaching, praying and singing aren't the only duties of the African missionary, Escanaba Kiwanis Club members learned Monday, listening to a talk by the Rev. Clyde Carlson of Escanaba. The Rev. Carlson, a missionary with a captivating sense of humor, told his story with the authority gained in several years of residence and work in the Belgian Congo. He will return shortly for four years more, serving under the sponsorship of the Evangelical Covenant Church.

Access to the Belgian Congo, the missionary pointed out, is solely by way of the big Congo River. The Belgian Congo state itself, about the size of the eastern half of the United States, is located practically in the center of Africa. The climate includes a rainy season which lasts for eight months.

Natives of the Belgian Congo are happy with little. The Rev. Mr. Carlson said, and wealth is often measured in the number of wives a man is able to maintain. Women do practically all of the manual labor, and males therefore strong, healthy girls as the best prospects for wives. Food, because it is hard to obtain, is high in importance, and for that reason thefts of food or growing crops draws severe punishment in the Congo. Cotton is the principal money crop, and laborers are also in demand in the production of palm oil and coffee.

There is no hurrying in the life or labor of the Belgian Congo native, the speaker said and consequently no nervous breakdowns or ulcers. Superstitions, many of them hard to break down, rule the lives of the Africans. However, there is a change taking place in the Congo, the missionary noted. Wants of the natives are expanding, and more and more they are adopting the gadgets of civilization. The Belgian Congo is a continent to watch the Rev. Mr. Carlson predicted, and during this period of change it is the job of the missionary to see that the African is guided to the right God.

The speaker was introduced by Rudolph Erickson, program chairman for the day.

Portugal To Resist Invasion Of Indian Territory Of Damao

LISBON, Portugal (P)—Portugal warned India Monday night that she will use "all possible means" to resist any invasion of the Portuguese Indian territory of Damao.

A communique from the Overseas Ministry said armed men with combat equipment had been sighted on Indian territory near the Portuguese pocket and that since Friday Indian border officials had stopped all mail and travelers to and from Damao.

Damao, an area of 1,449 square miles important for its valuable teak forests, fishing and shipbuilding, has been held by the Portuguese since 1559. It is one of the three Portuguese districts on India's west coast which Prime Minister Nehru has demanded repeatedly be ceded to India.

Portugal has refused even to discuss the Indian demands.

Steel Awaited At Crane Plant

Steel for the 60 by 320 foot addition to the Harnischfeger Corporation truck crane plant is expected to be shipped to Escanaba this week, Robert Losse, general manager of the company, said this morning.

Concrete footings and loading platforms have been poured under the direction of the general contractor, Erling Arntzen.

Barring unexpected delays, it is anticipated that the new addition will be ready for occupancy by February 1. The new addition will be used to expand the company's finishing department and will provide employment for considerably more workers at the truck crane plant.

Indian Shoots Wife In Chest With Arrow As Britons Applaud

BRIDLINGTON, England (P)—A woman collapsed on the stage with an Indian arrow through her chest — and the crowd of 1,200 cheered and clapped. They thought it was part of the act.

The performance Monday night featured "Big Chief Beaver," a North American Indian, and his London - born wife, 22-year-old Marie.

The Indian threw knives and axes and shot arrows at his wife. For protection Marie had a small wooden shield she could shift across her body when a shot appeared to be coming too close.

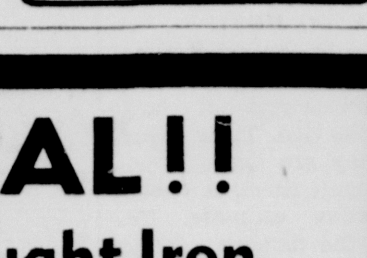

Beaver shot steel-tipped arrows from about 20 yards. By a "thousand to one" chance, an arrow went through a hole in the shield made by a previous missile and penetrated the woman's chest, just missing her lung.

A doctor ordered Marie to withdraw from the show. But she went on as usual in a later performance Monday night — and was ready to do it all again today.

Feast On Ferry

MUSKEGON (P)—Christmas Day aboard the car ferry, City of Milwaukee, looked like a meat-market jackpot. The menu included 48 pounds of turkey, 24 pounds of goose, 20 pounds of chicken, 20 pounds of duck, 12 pounds of ham and two gallons of oysters. Capt. Rolland Martin said his 40-man crew polished off the supply in two meals.

Save for rainy days, and you will have more sunny ones.

Avoid Fire Tragedy On New Year's Eve

If you are planning a New Year's Eve party in your home, be sure to take precautions against fire which could turn gaiety into tragedy, warns Escanaba Fire Chief Nels Bergeon.

By New Year's the Christmas tree and any other evergreen decorations in the home will be pretty well dried out—a dangerous fire hazard, the fire chief said.

"People in a holiday mood may not be as careful as they should, so the host should keep smokers away from the Christmas tree and other danger spots," said Chief Bergeon. "Have plenty of ash trays in your rooms — and plan on what you must do if fire should break out."

After the guests have gone, check to make sure that no cigarette butts are smoldering on some piece of furniture or behind a sofa cushion, the fire chief concluded.

Horrors Of War Provide New Urge For World Disarmament

IN the preatomic days, the diplomats entrusted with protecting their countries' interests always knew that if they pressed too hard the result might be war. They felt they could take the risk, and they did.

Perhaps the most outstanding development of the last two months has been the growth of the conviction among the leaders of the free world, and particularly President Eisenhower, that this whole approach is now out of the window.

The President stated it simply: "There is no longer any alternative to peace." He meant that atomic and hydrogen warfare is now so horrible to contemplate, so ruinous in prospect, that no sane statesman can dare to frame policies which include war among the possible avenues of action.

We in the United States and the free world are committed, in theory at least, to the building of an atomic air force so powerful that it could destroy the Soviet Union even if Russia first hurled all its atomic might at us.

Yet this plan is not inconsistent with Mr.

Eisenhower's declaration. For our real hope is that an atomic air force strong enough to wreck Russia would discourage the Kremlin or anybody else from ever undertaking major war.

Obviously, too, this plan has nothing to do with appeasement. We do not propose to avoid nuclear war by giving in but being too tough for anyone to take on.

In this program, which is at once a military policy and a foreign policy, there is one big flaw. We cannot be sure that at some stage in this attempted stand-off the Kremlin will not be inhabited by men sufficiently crazed to undertake war despite the prospect of world ruin. And we cannot be sure that some local conflict, launched in the belief it would stay small, might not grow nevertheless into general nuclear combat.

American leaders, buttressed by able former public servants like Thomas K. Finletter, therefore believe we must seek in deadly earnest some way to ban all major armaments, both atomic and conventional.

No realistic statesman dreams this would be easy. Every disarmament plan thus far offered by the United States or other free nations has been dashed to pieces on the rock of Russian intransigence.

But as the true horror of the alternative to peace becomes steadily clearer, hopes for drastic, effective disarmament may rise. Mr. Eisenhower's plan to divert atomic materials to peaceful uses is a frail but important beginning. The seed of this idea cannot be allowed to wither, and it is not.

At stake is nothing less than civilization itself. There is no safety in stressing what we say we cannot do. The only security lies in doing what we plainly must do.

Renewing The Body Cells

THE science of dietetics, like all medical science, has made remarkable strides in a comparatively brief period of time. Great new discoveries have appeared; old and widely-held illusions have been dissipated.

One of the most important developments has to do with meat. It is known that a high proportion of meat in the diet is conducive to both physical and mental health and vigor. This was dramatically proven during the war—the Army diet was heavy in meat content, and superior endurance and fighting ability in the soldier was the result.

It is also known that meat is often a great aid in promoting recovery from illness and from operations. And it is needed by old people—the "tea and toast" fare that so many of us used to think safe and adequate for the aged was actually a starvation diet.

Meat's value lies in the fact that it is one of the limited number of sources of whole protein—and it is the one which most people find palatable once or more a day.

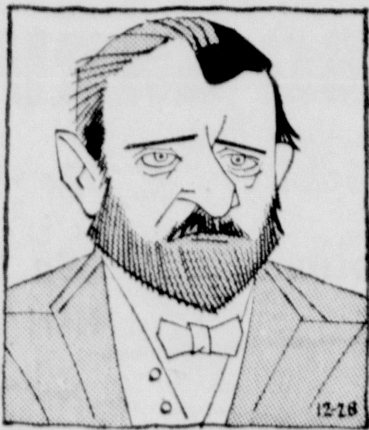

Now still another discovery emphasizes the importance of meat. It has long been believed that the human body replaces itself over a seven-year span. Atomic scientists have learned, however, that all but two per cent of the body cells are replaced each year. The most important part in this process is played by protein. And protein is not stored in the body, as is fat, and so should be continually and frequently renewed.

Try And Stop Me By BENNETT CERF

Before U. S. Grant became a general in the army, recalls Lloyd Lewis, he strode into a tavern, wearing a long, blue overcoat. It was court time, and lawyers were sitting in a tight circle around a hot stove. One of them noticed Grant and asked "Are you a stranger here?" "Yes," said U. S. "Travelled far?" "Yes," "Hm-m. Looks like you might have traveled through hell itself." "I have." The lawyer chuckled, and demanded, "Well, how did you find things down there?" "Just about like here," concluded Grant. "Lawyers all closest to the fire."

A literary figure on the West Coast made headlines with a spectacular suicide gesture. The fact that it seemed designed to be unsuccessful brought to mind a lady friend of Robert Benchley. She made so many abortive attempts to do away with herself that "Bob" finally told her, "You'll have to cut this sort of thing out, my dear. It's ruining your health!"

The Doctor Says . . .

Plenty of Vitamin D Will Help Prevent Rickets

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

Rowlegs are commonly the result of a disease known as rickets. Rickets causes the bones to become soft; it is particularly serious in growing children, and in dogs and other animals.

Rickets results from an insufficient supply of vitamin D in the system. The worst time of the year for rickets is the winter (in the Northern Hemisphere) when the sun comes out only a short time each day and then does not have much strength. The reason this is so is because sunlight acting on the skin helps the body to make vitamin D.

PROBABLY THE FIRST one to describe rickets was an Englishman named Daniel Whistler, born in 1619. Whistler described the knobby swellings which grow on the chest. The whole bony system is flexible, he said, and the bones can be twisted more or less like wax. Muscles become flabby and the bones can scarcely hold the weight of the body.

He also mentioned the narrowing of the chest and the prominence of the breastbone and pointed out the unfortunate effect of rickets on the teeth. Incidentally it is usually not so bad.

OF COURSE, neither Whistler nor another Englishman named Francis Glisson, who also studied the disease, knew what caused it or how to prevent it. Now, however, we are much better off, and there is little need for anyone who takes reasonable care to develop rickets. The fact that it is still too common is the result of lack of knowledge—or of carelessness.

SUNSHINE, or rather the action of the sunlight on the skin, is the best source of rickets-preventing vitamin D. However, not all of us can seek climates where the sun is adequate in winter months. Consequently, the next best sources of vitamin D are certain liver oils which contain this vitamin in large quantities. The liver of the cod fish and of the halibut are particularly useful and can provide the vitamin D which is needed. In the long winter months and especially in growing children, therefore, vitamin D in the form of fish liver oil will give just what is needed to prevent the development of this vitamin deficiency disease.

Today And Tomorrow

By WALTER LIPPMANN

The air of Washington is much sweeter now than it was in the holiday season a year ago. For then the country was threatened with the gravest of all political troubles: with an irreconcilable division of the nation on the desperate issues of loyalty and treason. McCarthy had challenged the President on that issue; Brownell had challenged Truman on that issue. From before Christmas until well after Lincoln's birthday, the question hung in the balance whether it would become the Republican party line to accuse the Democratic party of countenancing treason.

It was a fearful prospect. For when an accusation of that kind becomes the dividing line between parties, the discord is so deep that the bonds of confidence and of the community are destroyed. The party struggle becomes implacable, becomes a cold civil war, and when that happens the democratic system is made unworkable. If a democratic state is to flourish, the opposition must be, and it must be treated as being, a loyal opposition. There is a limit beyond which the party struggle cannot be carried without destroying the democratic party system itself. The issue of loyalty to the state is beyond that limit.

In Italy and France, for example, where democracy is working badly, and is by no means secure, the limits within which democracy must remain are continually overpassed. The Communist opposition is not a loyal opposition. In addition, among the non-Communist parties there is a very frequent resort to the charge of treason as a weapon in big political controversies. Under these conditions of irreconcilable enmities, the government becomes enfeebled and it does not obtain, a the democratic ideal demands, a true consent from the governed.

SERIOUS DAMAGE

A year ago the underlying unity of the American people was threatened by an attempt to create artificially, by deliberate falsification of history, a kind of irreconcilable disunion similar to that which has poisoned so many democratic nations. When men accuse their fellow citizens of treason, they can never live at peace with them again. The accused can never forgive the accuser. Had the attempt to make treason a party issue succeeded in the United States, it would have shattered our internal peace, and in the process our external security would have been gravely compromised.

It may be said now that the danger was never so serious as all that. Was there not enough resistance to avert it? A measure of how serious was the danger is how long it took, how difficult it was, to rally resistance. In the long months of timidity and vacillation damage was done to this country which it will take a very long time to repair. Even if the ultimately worst has been averted—as I hope and believe it has been—the damage which has been done is very serious and will be with us for a long time.

There is the damage to our self-respect and self-confidence. The effect has been—not to shut off but—to damp down and in a degree to smother the full exercise of the traditional American freedom of thought and of speech. There is a kind of smog in what should be the clean and open air of this free land, a smog which makes men nervous, makes them afraid to speak their minds, makes them not sure they dare keep their minds open.

LONG TIME TO HEAL

There is the damage to the government—to the morale, and indeed to the integrity, of the Foreign Service and of large portions of the Civil Service. Their injuries are subtle. But they are deep. It will take a long time to repair them. A decade would be a conservative estimate. The business of repairing the damage cannot begin until the principle is firmly re-established that government officials are accountable only to their superiors who, taking the responsibility for them, will defend with their own political lives the interests and the integrity of the Administration.

And with all this there is the damage to our reputation in the world. There, speaking the bitter truth, the promise of American life has been grossly tarnished by the virulent campaign of defamation against the whole history of an American generation. No one can measure what we have lost in influence and power by that campaign of self-defamation. But it is something that will not easily be made up by money and a multitude of bombs.

If we can say that the air is sweeter in Washington today, it is not that the injuries have as yet been repaired. It is not even that injuries do not continue to be inflicted. We can say it because there is now reason to think that the evil power which was threatening us has lost its most critical element. This was the chance that McCarthyism would become the policy not of a faction but of the Party. The supreme danger a year ago was not McCarthy himself; it was that administration leaders like Brownell, Nixon, Chairman Hall, would adopt McCarthyism as the Party line for winning the election. There were very strong voices, many of them quite urgent about it, advising the President to adopt that line. He did not adopt it, of course. But neither did he unequivocally and conclusively cause it to be rejected.

It Looks Sort of Stupid, Doesn't It?

Lootfull Of Slapstick Listed In Looney Larceny During 1954

By MEADER G. PATTINGTON

NEW YORK—(NEA)—For wacky events in the larceny business, 1954 was a vintage year. Auto thieves, burglars and stick-up artists acted out zany plots that must have Martin and Lewis complaining of plagiarism.

The alibi, for instance, could have been written by a TV gagman. At Los Angeles, a 240-pound burglar who forced his way into a doctor's office claimed after his capture that he was seeking reducing pills. A man in Hamilton, Ont., charged with stealing a $1.50 pair of glasses, insisted he only took them to "see my way out of the store."

And late one night at Chicago, two youths surrounded by hacksaws and wrenches and nabbed on the roof of a packing house, said, "Honest, officer, we were just looking for girls."

Then there was the fellow at Cincinnati who swallowed a dose of heroin to avoid arrest on narcotics charges. When police pumped the drug from his stomach, he loudly demanded his free dom—claiming the cops got the evidence without a search warrant.

Loonier even than alibis was some of the year's odd loot. Thieves broke into a shoe plant at Brockton, Mass., and took only one item: a watchdog named Judy. At Thurmont, Md., a snake farm reported the theft of a king snake, a rat snake, two corn snakes, a five-foot boa constrictor and a $30. And the only loot from a drug store heist in Hamilton, Canada, was two dozen bottles of castor oil.

Another burglar at Bethel, Conn., entered a doctor's office, ignored a safe and valuable drugs but took two books, "Childbirth Without Fear" and "Obstetrical Techniques."

Thieves who might be movie fans stole a king-size bag of pop corn—four feet high and two feet around—from a plant at Missoula, Mont. Crooks are getting stronger, it seems, for stolen at Houston, Tex., were 29 lead balls, weighing 150 pounds each. Other unwieldy items were a 1000-pound copper kettle, stolen at Racine, Wis., and 600 feet of snowfence lifted at Watkins, Colo.

At least one other theft has a long list of ready-made suspects. A shop was burglarized of two men's suits, a $150 camera and $45 in cash. The place: Toyotama Prison.

A man at Atlantic City, N. J., released after serving a car theft sentence, stole a 1949 Lincoln, abandoned same for a '53 Cadillac, drove to Pennsylvania and switched to a '54 Mercury. After his arrest, he told officials, "A new automobile always fascinates me."

Another thief at Merced, Calif., made off with a station wagon from a local mortuary, but he it behind in a hurry when he found that it held a corpse. A patrolman's car in Columbus, Ohio, suddenly backfired loudly, causing a running thief to stop and throw up his hands.

And in San Bernardino, Calif., when asked if he got the license number of the car driven by assailants who robbed and slugged him, the victim held up the entire license plate he had ripped from the car as it drove away.

At Shively, Ky., after being looted of $50, an insurance firm sadly admitted that its loss had not been insured.

A few thieves were polite. One at Edmonton, Alta., broke into a house cooked a meal, dished the dishes, slept in a bed, stole a tie clip and lighter, then left behind a note: "I thank you for the use of your house."

Another at Dallas, Tex., charged with a meat market safe-cracking job, told police that before he left he had carefully locked the store's front door. "I didn't want some thief," he explained, "to come along and steal all the man's meat."

School Bus Has Wings For Lake Erie Island

By E. J. ANDERSON

RATTLESLAKE ISLAND, O.—(NEA)—"Hurry, it's time for school. I hear the airplane coming," might well be the way Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lash call their sons in the morning. Instead of boarding a bus, these boys fly to school in a regularly scheduled airline plane that lands in their back yard.

The Lash family lives on tiny Rattlesnake Island in Lake Erie, and only by air can the boys get to school. The three boys, Henry, 10, Larry, 13, and Jim, 17, attend Put-In-Bay School on South Bass Island about five miles from their home. Their father is caretaker of an estate on Rattlesnake Island. It is so small that a 1500-foot runway takes up the major portion of it.

Henry is in fourth grade, Larry is in eighth and Jim is a tenth grader, and they rarely miss a day of school. Last year, the boys missed two days during a dense fog, and one day when a sleet storm halted air traffic.

The cost of this special "aerial school bus" is borne by the Put-In-Bay and the Ohio State boards of education. The school a Put-In-Bay has 61 pupils in grades one

Two gunmen in Chicago, finding a homeowner out, entertained his children and baby-sitter with fairy tales until he returned, then relieved him of $4525 in cash and $7000 in jewelry. And a grateful gunman in Hartford, Conn., after taking $50 from a woman, kissed his victim and said, "You are such a nice woman."

For some men, stealing was easy. Shown a .45-cal. automatic in a Glendora, Calif. store, the customer admiringly loaded it, pointed it at the clerk, walked out with the gun and $41.

A sign on a hardware safe in Du Quoin, Ill., read: "Positively not locked. No money in safe. Turn handle and open." Burglars followed instructions, made off with $700.

At Denver, a city detective twice had his license plates lifted—and twice got a traffic ticket before his colleagues knew of his plight. Philadelphia cops had their prowl car stolen. The police office safe at Fendale, Wash., was robbed of $290. A bold thief at Bridgeport, Ill., walked off with the station house pay telephone.

And the ultimate was reached at St. Catharines, Ont., where someone looted a house of many things—including the kitchen sink.

through 12, all the children of islanders.

The unique service is performed by the Island Air Service, Inc., an airline that hauls passengers, mail and freight from Sandusky and Port Clinton, Ohio, to the Bass Islands, 15 miles out in Lake Erie.

The airline is believed to have the shortest over-water haul in the world, and is the only connection the islanders have with the mainland in winter. Using antique Ford tri-motored planes, the airline operates from short sod runways on five major islands.

Edson In Washington

By PETER EDSON

(NEA Washington Correspondent) WASHINGTON—(NEA)—A complicated plan to modify President Eisenhower's international trade program is now being stirred up by the American Tariff League. This organization is generally regarded as favoring high protective tariffs, and opposing the reciprocal trade agreements program.

The movement centers around the proposal for a government aid program for American workers, industries and communities that might be injured by lowered tariffs which would increase imports of foreign goods competing with U. S. products.

With Democratic majorities in Congress, it is believed that President Eisenhower's foreign trade program stands a better chance of passage next year than it did in the last two years.

This has naturally aroused advocates of higher protective tariffs on how they can live with the trade agreements program. The government aid idea has apparently been seized on as the best means of minimizing injury from low tariff foreign competition.

DEVELOPMENT OF THIS IDEA has an interesting background. It was proposed last year by the Committee for Foreign Trade Policy, whose president is Charles P. Taft of Ohio. This group believes that U. S. imports must be increased, to help foreign countries pay for an increased volume of American exports. They believe this is the best means to make foreign countries self-supporting and end the U. S. overseas aid programs.

The idea of Federal assistance to dislocated industry was not conceived as a permanent subsidy. The plan was for government loans on short terms. They were to help injured industries convert to other products, to modernize their plants so they could meet foreign competition, or to help dislocated workers get new jobs.

All these arguments were presented to the President's 16-man Commission on Foreign Economic Policy, headed by Clarence B. Randall, board chairman of Inland Steel. The commission voted the plan down 15 to one. The one member who bought it was David J. McDonald, president of the CIO Steelworkers' Union.

HIGH TARIFF BUSINESS GROUPS

were all emphatic on the point that they wanted no part of any direct government subsidy.

They weren't interested in changing their products or modernizing their plants, just to meet foreign competition. All they wanted was a protective tariff. Period.

Rep. Harrison A. Williams, Jr. (D-N. J.) and Senator John Kennedy (D-Mass.) introduced a bill in the last Congress to provide assistance to communities, industries, business enterprises and individual workers injured by U. S. trade policy dislocations.

These bills got no place, but may be re-introduced next year.

In the meantime, the idea of government assistance for tariff-dislocated industry has begun to catch on in other places. Assistant Secretary of Commerce Samuel Anderson, in a speech before the Foreign Trade Convention of New York, declared, "This idea has had insufficient debate and analysis."

THIS SPEECH CAUSED CONSIDERABLE private anguish among backers of the President's trade program. But Chairman Randall himself, in a series of Chicago University lectures, raised the question of "whether some device should be offered for cushioning the immediate effect on industry and our workers of a lowering of the tariff."

Allan Sproul of New York Federal Reserve Bank gave it a further plug. So did Assistant Secretary of Defense Struve Hensel. And the liberal business leaders' Committee for Economic Development has now recognized the problem of aid for areas hit by low tariffs and increased imports.

Finally the American Tariff League gave the idea a plug in a monthly trade letter to its members. Tariff League officials had opposed the idea when it was originally presented. The apparent switch caused considerable surprise and interest in Washington.

One opinion is that high tariff advocates have picked up the plan only to build on the idea that American business will be hurt by lower tariffs. It is said they are still basically opposed to the assistance program and are merely using it now to help kill the reciprocal trade agreements extension.

Miss Robinson And Lt. Degnan Wed In St. Louis

In the quaint setting of the historic Church of St. Louis, King of France, (Old Cathedral) in St. Louis, Mo., the first Catholic church west of the Mississippi, Miss Isobel Ann Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Edwin Robinson of Crystal City, Mo., became the bride of Lt. Lace and Ivory Satin Ivory point d'Alencon lace over ivory satin fashioned the traditional bridal gown. The fitted bodice and long pointed sleeves were etched with pearls as was the lace applied on the full bouffant skirt which extended into a Cathedral train. Pearl encrusted lace over satin formed the small cap which held the illusion fingertip length veil. Two white orchids surrounded by miniature orchids sea in tulle with stephanotis and valley lilies formed the cascade bouquet which she carried. Her jewelry was a strand of pearls, the wedding gift of the bridegroom.

Her attendants were identically gowned in bouffant ballerina length frocks of ice blue crystal-ette. Dior blue velvet bands framed the off the shoulder necklines and extended down to the hemline in the back. They wore long velvet gloves of Dior blue and held small blue fox muffs to which were pinned delicate sprays of pink camellias and sweetheart roses. Their headbands were of matching blue velvet and Dior blue satin pumps completed their ensembles. Mrs. Thomas Commerford of Webster Groves acted as matron of honor and the bridal attendants were Mrs. George Bond of Crystal City, Mrs. Earl Lin Counts of Festus and Mrs. Thomas Fitz of Farmington, Mo. Reception at Club
The bride's mother wore a sheath gown of cafe-au-lait Chantilly lace over champagne colored taffeta with short sleeves and skirt trim of mink. Her hat was of matching lace and her accessories of bronze. Green and bronze slipper orchids were used for her corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a sheath gown of grey re-embroidered point d'Alencon lace with crushed belt and sash of matching taffeta. She wore a small beaded grey hat and her pumps and accessories were of silver. Her corsage was of delicate pink camellias and rosebuds. Following the ceremony and reception breakfast was served in the Crystal Ballroom of the Missouri Athletic Club, St. Louis, to 150 guests. The bridal color scheme of white, silver and ice blue was carried out in the decor throughout. A long, low arrangement of white Fuji mums, snapdragons and carnations combined with ucalypsus and greens was used on the bride's table with four tall silver candleabra with white tapers on either side. White shirred net skirted the cake table. Silver lame outlined with smilax was draped in swag fashion around the table, each swag caught up with a nosegay of silver and ice blue ribbon, pink rosebuds and lily of the valley. The four tier cake set in a border of smilax was topped with a bouquet of lily of the valley, stephanotis and roses.

To San Francisco
Immediately following the wedding breakfast the young couple left for San Francisco where Lt. Degnan is stationed with the legal department of the Air Force at Hamilton. The bride attended Webster Groves College and received a degree in music from the University of Missouri. She is a member of Sigma Alpha Iota, honorary music, and Delta Gamma, social, sororities. Lt. Degnan is an alumnus of the University of Michigan School of Law and a member of Theta Delta Chi fraternity and Phi Beta Kappa honorary scholastic society. The bride was feted at many pre-nuptial parties and the rehearsal dinner was given by the bridegroom's parents for the two families and the wedding party in the Regency Room of the Park Plaza Hotel, St. Louis. Boost Proposed In Military Pay

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.) proposed today a 25 per cent boost in military pay rates as a means to maintain a three-million-man military force on a permanent basis with minimum use of the draft.

Mansfield said he is opposed to any universal military service program which is not accompanied by a new excess profits tax on war production. He included the modified system which the Eisenhower administration has said it will ask Congress to approve next year.

"If we have to draft men, then we should also draft the excess profits which come from war and defense production," he said.

He said that when the administration's military manpower program reaches the Senate he will propose that kind of a tax as an amendment. An excess profits tax was in effect during World War II and again during the Korean War. It was allowed to expire a year ago.

As outlined last week by Secretary of Defense Wilson, the new military manpower program contemplates extension of the present draft law, due to die this summer. In addition, there would be provision to give six months of training each year to 100,000 youths who would then be obligated to serve in the reserves for 9½ years. Men currently are drafted for two years and then are supposed to serve in the reserves for six years.

The administration plans to ask for an increase in military pay, but has not announced the amount.

French 'Angel' Woman Of The Year

BY DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Women's Editor Flight Nurse Genevieve de Galard-Terraube, "the angel of Dien Bien Phu," has been named Woman of the Year in the 13th annual women's editor poll of AP newspapers.

The courage of the attractive, blue-eyed, 29-year-old French nurse who stuck to her post and ministered to the wounded until the last shot was fired in the siege of Dien Bien Phu provided one of the most dramatic news stories of the year and provided history with a new heroine. Awarded the French Legion of Honor and the U. S. Medal of Freedom for her heroism, the young nurse has returned to France after a recent triumphal tour of the United States at the invitation of Congress.

Others named outstanding in their fields for 1954 are:

Business: Jacqueline Cochran, business woman-aviatrix-author, who this year added to her many honors an autobiography, "The Stars at Noon," and two new air honors: first woman to break the sound barrier, and first woman to set the jet speed record of 652 m.p.h.

Sports: Babe Didrikson Zaharias, who went on to greater golfing honors in 1954 after winning a desperate bout with cancer in 1953. She was awarded the William D. Richardson trophy as the person who made the outstanding contribution to golf this year, won her third Women's National Open championship, captured her fifth All-American Women's Pro title, was inducted into Texas Hall of Fame won the Ben Hogan trophy for having overcome the greatest physical handicap in 1953 and was a guest for dinner at the White House.

New Year's Bargain Drink Price Banned

LANSING (AP)—The State Liquor Control Commission today forbade licensees to advertise for New Year's Eve celebrations "all you can eat and drink for $10" or any other sum.

Chairman Frank Blackford said most such offers were "misleading" because they usually mean only a pre-dinner and post-dinner drink.

However, Blackford said, licensed establishments which mean their advertisement literally are just as bad "because people get too much to drink and the licensee loses control over the sale of liquor. Our regulations forbid selling liquor to intoxicated persons and the licensee must have his sales under control at all times."

Martens Reappear In Upper Peninsula

LANSING (AP)—The pine marten, which once inhabited Michigan forests in strength, has returned to his old haunts—but not in force.

The Conservation Department says it has one of the little animals in captivity at its Cusino wildlife experiment station in the Upper Peninsula. More are on the way.

The department hopes to bring the animal back to the state in force. It asked the government of Ontario to capture a few pine martens and ship them to the state.

The animals, which resemble minks, were hunted extensively for their fur during the last century.

The Air Force spokesman said the three planes were unidentified but added: "It's a cinch they weren't ours."

He said U. S. jets as well as propeller-driven fighters in undisclosed number rose to meet them and "intercepted" or "made contact" in the air "but there was no combat."

Water Station Purchasing Soon Will Be Finished

Tabulation of bids on a highlift pump and an electric motor for the new Manistique water pumping station now are being prepared by Francis Engineering company, Saginaw, and should arrive here this week, Orson Livermore, city manager, reported at a regular meeting of the City Council Monday night.

The firm, Livermore reported, also is asking for bids on a gasoline motor for a standby pump, but is having difficulty due to the smaller size needed here. Bids on the standby motor are expected within a few days by the firm, the manager said.

Purchase of the pump and motors will complete acquisition of material for the new station, with exception of fittings and possibly a standby pump, Livermore stated. No information has been received yet on whether or not a new standby pump will be needed, he added. A pump used in the old station has had the impeller reduced for possible use in the new plant.

The manager also reported that icing of an automatic control for lowlift pumps apparently has been halted by installing a projector flood light in the settling basin at the new water station. A different heating arrangement in the station itself also has been effected, the manager noted, to provide more oxygen for heaters.

In other business Monday night the Council informally moved not to change the policy on assessment of costs in justice court here. Atty. William Hood explained that under the Michigan penal code, in excess of $4 can be charged on traffic law violations and that under the Motor Highway Vehicle code, $2 costs are to be charged.

Councilmen noted that the variance is in the state statutes, and declined to take action. The Michigan Association of Justices if the Peace favors the higher cost assessment. Atty. Hood said. He explained that the state attorney general recently reversed a previous decision that the Motor Highway act superseded the penal code, and that therefore higher costs could now be charged.

Councilmen Monday also declined to make further insurance payroll deductions, explaining that it would unnecessarily complicate city bookkeeping. An agent had requested that deductions be made on life insurance.

Didn't Know His Siren Was Blowing

CATLETTSBURG, Ky. (P)—Hi Walker drove his automobile through town with the horn blowing continuously.

Pedestrians shouted and waved, trying to get him to turn the thing off. He waved back and drove on.

Finally he parked the machine, the horn still blaring. Then a pedestrian walked up and handed him a note. Walker quickly raised the hood, jerked a wire, and peace was restored.

He is deaf.

Kidney Subject Of Rotary Talk

An interesting and informative discourse on "The Biology of the Kidney" was presented before the Gladstone Rotary Club at its regular Monday noon luncheon at the Yacht Club by Dr. W. D. Collings, associate professor of physiology at Michigan State College, East Lansing.

Dr. Collings described and illustrated the anatomy of the kidney which he said has been studied for several centuries and also described the organ's functions, the study of which is of comparative recent origin.

In the study of the organ's functions, the speaker said, it had been found that each kidney contains about one million nephrons which through a process of osmosis conserves or saves sugar, some H₂O and sodium carbonate, thus keeping the human system or blood stream from becoming alkaline.

The conserving is done by the upper half of the nephrons while the lower carries through a similar process though in reverse of waste materials.

Dr. Collings used a blackboard and illustrated his talk with drawings which made his talk understandable to a layman.

Guests at the meeting were James Bryant, Port Huron, Mich.; W. D. Collings and Alcott Erickson, Minneapolis, and Robert Schmiedler, Dallas, Tex.

Doctor Risks Life To Test Air Speed

LOS ANGELES (P)—A doctor who risks his life discovering what is for this nation's airmen has again set a world speed record for travel on land—this time 632 m.p.h.

Lt. Col. John Paul Stapp, 44, an aero-medical scientist, set the mark during an air survival test in a rocket-propelled open sled roaring along rails of a 3,500-foot track. There was no windshield to protect him from the terrific rush of wind. He wore a plastic helmet and visor.

"My eyeballs became uncaged, but there was no impairment of thinking," he said in a telephone interview.

Although he made his rapid journey at Holloman Air Development Center, N.M., on Dec. 10, the Air Force didn't disclose details until Monday.

The speed record came only as a secondary part of the test. Stapp's ride was taken to simulate pressure that airmen would encounter bailing out of a supersonic plane flying 1,000 m.p.h. at an altitude of 35,000 feet.

Asked if he is convinced a pilot can safely bail out at supersonic speeds, the spectacled scientist said he wants to make another test before giving an answer. Results will determine the best type of ejection apparatus for high-speed airplanes.

On Dec. 10 run, Stapp collected two black eyes and was blinded 8 1/2 minutes but reported no other ill effects except for some small blood blisters from dust particles in the air.

During the five seconds of acceleration, he was subjected to about nine Gs, or nine times the pressure of gravity. It blacked out his eyesight for about two seconds. From top speed to a complete stop took 1.4 seconds, subjecting the rider to an average pressure 27 times the force of gravity for more than a second.

"I saw bright yellow and then vivid red," he said. "The pain was intense. So intense that I recall very little of the G pressure in stopping."

Court Vacancy Up To Electors

The electors of the city of Gladstone, not the Gladstone City Commission, will choose a justice of peace to fill the vacancy created following the recent resignation of Oliver C. Estenson.

City Attorney Clyde McGonaggle advised the City Commission at its regular meeting last night that it does not have authority to appoint a successor to fill the vacancy. He advised the Commission that the vacancy must be filled at the next regular election, which will be held in early April. The unexpired term is for two years.

In other business the Commission approved a $982.73 low bid of the Gladstone Motor Company to supply the police department with a new Ford V-8 patrol car. The bid price includes a turn-in of the present patrol car.

The Commission tabled a petition of the 88th Grade Sodality of All Saints schools regarding regulation of comic books, and will act after receiving a model ordinance from the National Association of Law Enforcement Officers.

The purchase of overcoat jackets for members of the police department, each garment to cost not more than $65, was approved by the Commission.

The Commission urged the city attorney to take steps toward determining ownership of property located on the bay shore east of the Yacht Club, which is claimed by the city.

In case you've been wondering about the Pat Murphy, pro fighter who is currently training the Marquette Golden Gloves boxing team, we might refresh your memory . . . Murphy, a native of Marquette, boxed in the 1942 Golden Gloves tournament here as Frank Murphy . . . He won the novice featherweight title at 16 years of age but lost in Milwaukee . . . He turned pro a few years later and worked his way up the fistic ladder to the point where he met most of the good men in his class.

And speaking of boxing, several former Escanaba Golden Gloves have stopped in at the workouts at Club 314 in recent weeks . . . Back on furloughs during the holidays were Ray Gardner and Don Swanson who fought briefly here in recent years . . . And Bill Launderville, who has been boxing in the service, was in during a workout several weeks ago.

Gwinn's Barry Mussatto appears to be one of the Upper Peninsula's best court performers this season . . . The small (about 5-9) Model Towner veteran poured 15 straight free throws through the nets without a miss last week as Gwinn edged Negaunee St. Paul 69-63 . . . He has scored 54 free throws in 70 attempts and has a 162-point total in six games, for a 27 average . . . That's second only to John Berrigan of Holy Name.

A typographical error in last week's list of Upper Peninsula high school cage ratings gave the Escanaba Eskymos a record of three wins and three defeats . . . The Eskymos, of course, have three wins and two losses and are rated in the U. P. Sports Writers poll in fourth place in Class B.

Ted Dunn, grandson of Escanaba's Mr. and Mrs. Sam Dunn, is a vital factor in Purdue's surprising basketball team . . . Ted led the Boilermakers in a 72-44 victory (fifth straight) over Washington of St. Louis recently with 16 points . . . And Bucky Lindsley, former DePere prep ace who was named outstanding player of the Hermansville Gold Medal tourney last year, has landed a regular berth on the University of Minnesota varsity team as a sophomore . . . He scored 16 points against Notre Dame as the Gophers won 77-66.

Injuries Strike Key East-West Gridders

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Injuries have caused frowns on the brows of both East and West coaches as their squads run through stepped-up drills for the annual Shrine football game here New Year's Day.

Matt Hazeltine, California line-backer, hobbled out of Monday's West practice session at Stanford complaining: "I can't run. I can't bend over and I can't lift my legs."

At East headquarters in Santa Clara, a swollen aching leg sidelined Michigan State's halfback Leroy Bolden.

Bolden's leg pains stemmed from an infection which set in after he suffered a skin burn while practicing Christmas Day. He was shot with penicillin and is expected to play Saturday.

Sophomores Stopped Michigan's Plunge To Big Ten Depths

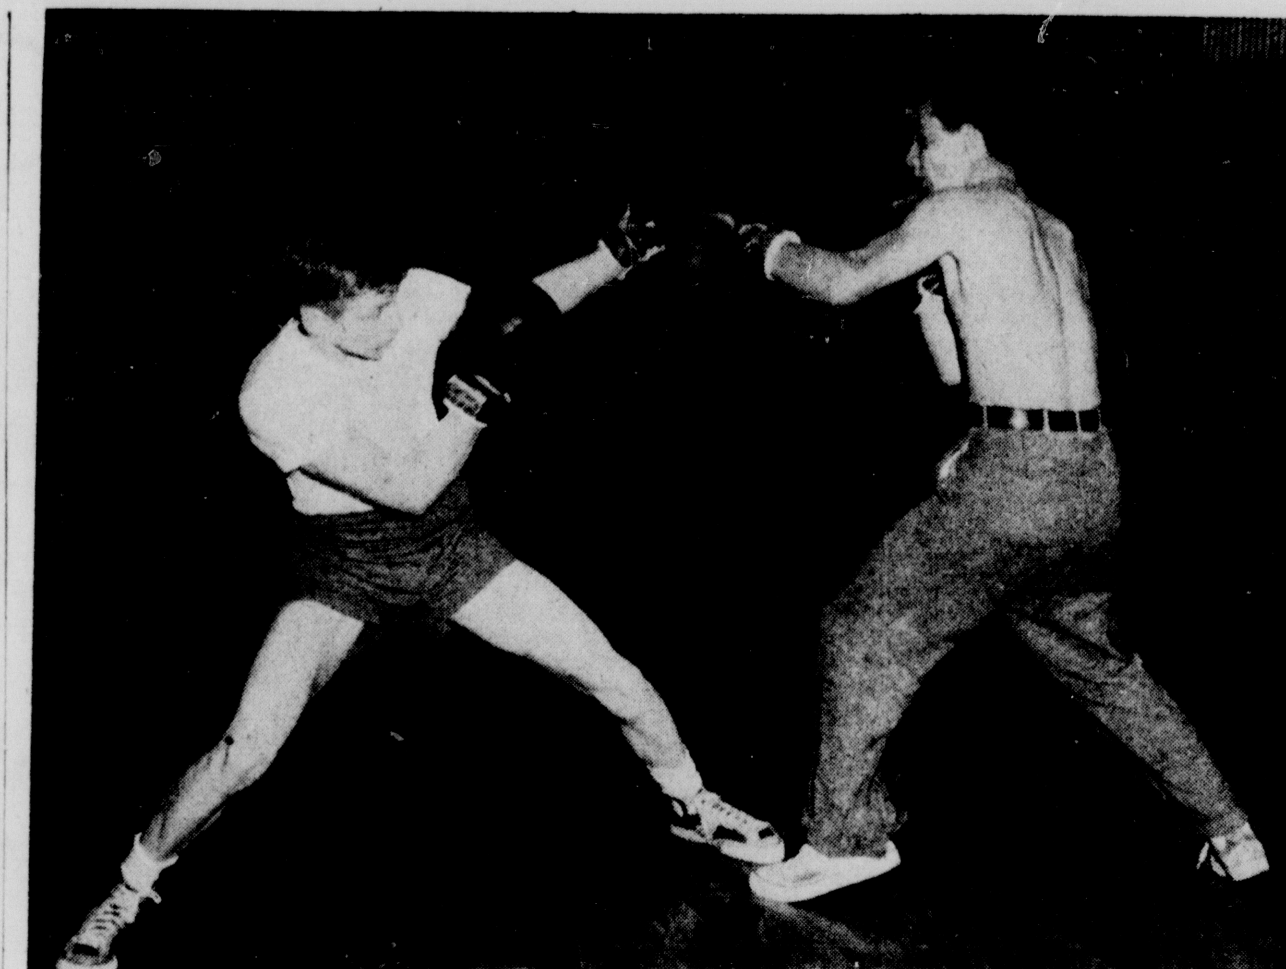

By JOHN BARBOUR

ANN ARBOR (AP)—They ought to build a monument in Michigan Stadium to the timeliness of the University of Michigan class of 1957.

When Michigan sporting fortunes were sinking to their lowest point in recent years and rumors about coach replacement began to be heard for the first time in 17 years along came the sophomores.

Michigan's football team is the object in point. Getting progressively worse since 1950, the Wolverines were slated for extermination in a tough but attractive 1954 schedule.

FEATHERWEIGHT FIGHTERS—Two Escanaba Golden Gloves featherweights mix it up in a sparring session at the boxing training center at Club 314 last night. At the left is Gerald Richer, of Tesch, who boxed in the novice division in the U. P. Golden Gloves tournament here last year. His opponent is Al Swanson, Holy Name High School student. Both boys will compete in the U. P. tourney Jan. 31 and Feb. 7 at the Holy Name gymnasium. (Daily Press Photo)

Escanaba Boxers Work Out With Iron Mountain Squad

Escanaba and Iron Mountain Golden Gloves boxers traded punches in a spirited workout at Club 314 last night in a Juneup for the Upper Peninsula championship tournament to be staged here Jan. 31 and Feb. 7.

Three Iron Mountain leatherswingers, directed by coach Ray Mariucci, put the gloves on with Escanaba fighters in the one-hour sparring session at the close of the workout.

Jim Wall, youthful Norway high school student, went three rounds with Escanaba's Vic Sopina, finalist in the novice middleweight division last year. Sopina was too experienced for the Norway youth but the action was fast and furious for the first two rounds. Sopina is a junior at Escanaba High School and lost on a technical knockout to Marinette's Virgil Bacon in the middleweight title fight last January when he suffered a fractured nose.

Brown In Action

Jim Brown, Holy Name High School student who advanced to the finals in the novice welterweight division last year, worked three rounds with Jim Casanova, also a Norway High School student. Casanova is making his first appearance as a Golden Glover this year.

Final inter-club workout matched newcomers George Hurley of Escanaba against Jimmy VanDevelde of Norway. The youngsters put on a lively exhibition of punching and both looked like good Golden Gloves prospects.

A pair of Escanaba feather-weights, Al Swanson and Gerald Richer, both of whom have had experience in previous mitt cards here, closed the workout with a fast three rounds of boxing.

The Escanaba boxers are handled by Ray Crandall, assisted by Don Michelin, former Detroit professional fighter who is a member of the Escanaba police force.

Eye Future Fights

The Escanaba team will return the trip to Iron Mountain for a series of exhibition bouts in the near future as Golden Gloves activity steps up in the Peninsula. A fight program is also being planned for Marquette before the U. P. tournament.

In addition to the fighters who saw action last night, the Escanaba team will be bolstered by Wayne Courier, novice lightweight finalist in last year's tournament.

Courier has been unable to work out steadily with the squad because of employment but will join the team after the first of the year.

Several new boys have joined the squad in recent weeks and will be of help in future sparring sessions. Among the newcomers is Jimmy Jorgensen, a nephew of former pro boxer Mel Jorgensen who was well-known in Escanaba rings a few years back. He's the son of Kermit Jorgensen, Mel's brother, and is a 15-year-old 145-pounder.

Johnny Nelson and John Hovey have also attended recent workouts at the training center here.

The Escanaba boxers will workout Wednesday evening from 5 to 7 and Thursday from 6 to 8 at Club 314. Any other boys interested in joining the workouts will be welcomed.

Seixas And Trabert End Davis Cup Play On Doubles Victory

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Vic Seixas and Tony Trabert returned international tennis supremacy to the United States today with a masterful doubles exhibition which clinched the 1954 Davis Cup Challenge Round a day ahead of schedule.

It was the darkest day of Australian tennis since 1949. The Sydney twins-Lewis Hoad and Ken Rosewall—went down fighting 6-2, 4-6, 6-2, 10-8.

The plucky Australians, down 4-5, and love-40 on Rosewall's service in the 10th game of the final set, fought off four match points with some brilliant volleying to carry it into an exciting overtime which kept a crowd of 25,578 at White City in an uproar.

Clinch Match

But in the 18th game the Americans slammed to advantage again on little Rosewall's service and clinched the match and the cup on a brilliant forehand shot by Trabert down the sideline.

Thus the Challenge Round which experts predicted would be perhaps the closest in history became a complete rout with the Americans leading 3-0 in the best-of-five series.

Non-playing team Captain Billy Talbert announced he would substitute Hamilton Richardson Jr., the Rhodes scholar from Baton Rouge, La., for Trabert in Wednesday's meaningless final singles matches. He said Tony has blisters on his racket hand. Originally, he intended to rest Seixas.

Followed Pattern

Talbert said the conquest was the result of a full year's planning.

And, he added: "I must give full credit to the boys. They had a pattern cut out for them and they followed it to the letter. I am very proud of both Vic and Tony."

Richardson is scheduled to play Rosewall in the first match of the final day, with Seixas meeting Hoad in the second.

Top-Ranked Cage Quints Start Fast In Tourneys

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ
The Associated Press

The nation's top-ranking collegiate basketball teams were off to good starts in the merry holiday tournament whirl with only two court powers suffering reversals in first-round games.

Only 10th ranked Niagara and Southern California, ranked No. 14, lost Monday.

Niagara (6-2) bowed to UCLA (7-1) in the third annual ECAC Festival at New York's Madison Square Garden 88-86 in the only game that involved two of the top 20 court titans. Southern California (6-3) was upset by North Carolina 67-58 in the Dixie Classic at Raleigh.

North Carolina State (No. 2), shooting for its fifth Dixie Classic title, extended its unbeaten string to 10 in a row with a 95-61 victory over Cornell.

Gladstone Braves At Newberry For Great Lakes Tilt Tonight

The Gladstone Braves, third-ranked Class C quint in the Upper Peninsula, will step up a class to meet the Newberry Indians, third-rated in Class B, tonight at the Newberry gymnasium.

The opening tipoff will be at 8:30. No preliminary game will be played.

Coach Eldon (Cappy) Keil's Braves enter the game with a record of three wins against a loss to Munising in their last start. The victories came over an Alumnus team, Holy Name and Manistique.

Newberry Won Five

Newberry boasts a 5-1 mark with victories over Ishpeming, Munising and Marquette in recent games. The lone loss was to Sault Ste. Marie, top-ranked team in Class B. Besides Soo, Iron River is the only U. P. club rated above the Indians.

Gladstone will open with its regular starters. John Quinn will be at center, Jack Beach and Larry Feldt at forwards, Roger Carlson and Norman Butler at guards.

In reserve will be J. C. Miller, Jeri Anderson, Tom Brewer, Dennis Artley and Charley Cole. Another reserve, Jerry Leander, is visiting out of town during the holidays and will not be available.

"If they use a press, as expected, our reserves will likely see considerable action tonight," Keil said today.

New Backboards

The Braves have been hampered in workouts during the holiday vacation because of installation of new glass backboards at the Gladstone High School gym. The team worked out at the Rock gym last week and returned to its home floor for drills over the weekend.

The game will be counted as a regular Great Lakes Conference contest. It was added to the Gladstone schedule recently and gives the Braves the required minimum of eight conference games to become eligible for championship consideration in the circuit.

Fears Over-Confidence Says Ohio State Coach

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Ohio State's football team continues to fill the role of favorite in the Rose Bowl game New Year's Day, but Southern California does hold a psychological edge, for what it may be worth.

Buckeye mentor, Woody Hayes, in effect said he fears over-confidence. A team had better watch out, he said, if it starts getting impressed with its press notices. Hayes admitted that he was "terrribly" concerned when Ohio State reached the top in the AP poll after the Wisconsin game.

USC coach Jess Hill noted: "We don't have to worry about our press notices."

Although his Trojans lost three games, Hill reminded his interviewers Monday that USC has "a long and fine record" in Rose Bowl competition—nine triumphs and two losses. Significantly, the Trojans' 7-0 decision over Wisconsin in the 1953 game is the only coast victory over the Big Ten since the series began in 1947.

Hayes said the Buckeyes will be at full strength. Fullback Hubert Bobo and halfback Howard Cassady will play full-time; left guard will have depth, with both Dave Williams and Jim Parker physically sound, and center will be bolstered by the return of Ken Vargo, who broke an arm in the Illinois game Oct. 9.

Indiana Loses Fourth Straight

CHICAGO (AP)—Minnesota and Northwestern both chalked up victories Monday night but once-mighty Indiana, defending champion in the Big Ten, suffered its fourth successive loss and fifth in seven games.

Minnesota, led by Dick Garmaker, defeated Wake Forest in the opening round of the Dixie Classic Basketball Tournament, 81-73.

Garmaker popped in 30 points to lead the way. Bill Simonovich, Minnesota's giant center, chipped in with 19. The Gophers were never in serious trouble and led 43-35 at halftime.

Northwestern avenged last week's defeat at the hands of Butler by turning back the Bulldogs, 81-74. Northwestern did it the hard way by playing most of the game without its scoring stars, Frank Ehmann and Hal Grant.

Grant left the game on fouls before the first half ended and Ehmann sat out the last 8 minutes after committing his fifth personal. Ehmann, however, took scoring honors with 25 and Grant tallied 17.

Indiana's hapless Hoosiers were edged out by St. Louis University, 80-78, despite a 29-point barrage by Don Schlundt. Schlundt, however, sat out 10 minutes of the game with four fouls and was charged with his fifth foul with 2:11 left. The game was a real thriller with the score tied 16 times.

With the exception of Minnesota in the Dixie Classic, no Big Ten teams play tonight.

Detroit, Wayne In Cage Finals

DETROIT (AP)—The University of Detroit meets Wayne University tonight in the finals of the Motor City Basketball Classic.

Penn State meets Toledo for consolation honors. A 76-58 victory over Toledo pitted Detroit against the Wayne Tartars who upset Penn 71-66 in the opening of the tourney Monday night.

The underdog Tartars pushed to a 32-28 halftime lead. Penn cut the edge to two points in the last two minutes but Wayne struck back to take a 5-point winning edge.

Detroit marked up its eighth victory in nine starts with the win over Toledo. It held a 35-32 halftime lead and lengthened its margin steadily in the second half.

Penn State's 6-foot-5 center, Pesse Arnette, led the night's scoring with 26 points. Guy Sparrow, Detroit forward, followed with 24 points.

Junior Archers

To Meet Thursday

The City Recreation Department has announced that the Junior Archery Club will again be organized this year with the first meeting set for Thursday at Club 314 at 10 a. m.

The meeting will be under the direction of Francis Lueneburg who will be in charge of the club. All boys 9 through 17 years of age interested in archery are asked to attend the meeting. The archery range at Club 314 has been greatly improved this year. A new back stop has been built that will accommodate five targets.

Boys attending the meeting are asked not to bring along archery equipment.

Young Dupas Picked To Snap Andrade's Streak

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

There is a lot more to the Ralph Dupas—Cisco Andrade lightweight natural on New Year's night in New Orleans than the usual interest surrounding a good fight.

To begin with, you have a match which means something, geographically and sporting-wise. Hometown Dupas can bring New Orleans fans out. A top lightweight contender, he is matched with the crack Andrade, the Compton, Calif., flash.

The winner is assured of stepping up, alongside Frankie Ryff, as the only exciting and legitimate contenders for Jimmy Carter's championship.

Then you come to the gate—a certain sellout of something like $34,000. In these days a gross of one-quarter that figure is big money.

Adding these together, you come up with something which is a distinct rarity in the boxing business today, a fight which will interest a lot of people and make some money.

This is a far cry from the modern TV habit of dropping two nondescript fighters from, say, New York's Bronx borough into a 10-round bout in the San Francisco Cow Palace or St. Louis Arena.

As the gate receipts should show, the match stands up by itself. And the notion here is that it will produce a surprise—we look for the clawing, boring-in Dupas to hand the slick and sleek Andrade his first defeat. It is a matter of styles and Dupas seems to have the form to completely throw the heretofore untouchable Andrade off track.

Andrade has yet to lose in 27 outings. The Cisco Kid knocked out 10, won every second of 10 rounds from Percy Bassett.

Dupas has been around plenty for one so young. He has engaged in a startling 59 fights, winning 48, losing 7 and drawing in 4. His most recent losses were to Paddy DeMarco, who took a split decision in a tough fight in New Orleans, and Frankie Ryff. The latter won in an eight-rounder at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway Arena, but Dupas was coming along at the finish.

Dupas is an inspired fighter with everybody rooting for him in New Orleans.

The scrap is to be televised nationally with the Crescent City blacked out.

There are plenty of matches of this calibre which could be made today, but once you get a big one such as this over, there isn't much left for the next week. The fighters just aren't around.

It's the kind of a fight you would take a night off to see, any place and any time. In Andrade, you have a clever, sharp-punching 23-year-old who never has looked anything but great.

He is a snappy puncher with a fine left jab and a load of combinations. He uses the ring well and has shown cement-like qualities in his chin.

Dupas, only 19, is a tiger-cat. His forte is rushing an opponent and trying to take him out with a body or chin—wrecking left hook. Fast and strong, he gets rougher as the fight wears on, always crowds his opponent into uncomfortable corners.

New Orleans gets a real fight in this one. Boxing could use plenty more of them, if this implausible business still is to keep its sour spot in the sports world.

Kentucky Strengthens No. 1 Basketball Grip

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Kentucky's unbeaten Wildcats defeated two outstanding rivals to retain the No. 1 spot in the national standing of the college basketball teams today.

The Wildcats, who won their own tournament last week by turning back Utah and LaSalle, received 79 of the 101 first-place votes in the weekly Associated Press poll of sports writers and sportscasters and piled up a total of 963 points. The Kentuckians, idle since the tournament victory, have won five games.

There was some general shifting of positions as the result of last week's contests. San Francisco, winner of seven of its eight games,

GLADSTONE AT NEWBERRY

American Bowling Congress Cracks Down On 13 Keglers

DETROIT (P) — The American Bowling Congress (ABC) Monday suspended 13 Detroit bowlers for fraud.

The indefinite suspensions were levied for roster manipulations during a tournament, falsification of averages, the false claim of ABC tournament sanction and misappropriation of league funds.

Six of the suspensions were handed to members of the Marty O'Donnell No. 3 team of the Chrysler-New Yorker League in connection with the "Champion of Champions" tournament in Detroit last June.

Used Another's Name
A league representative was among the finalists in the $38,000 tournament.

Frank Mittel, secretary of the Detroit Bowling Assn., said in the first round of the tournament one bowler rolled under another's name.

Mittel said in the same round another bowler, who was not a member of the Chrysler League, replaced a team member who reportedly was ill. The substitute had an average 21 pins higher than the man he replaced, Mittel said.

The team finished in 10th place in the finals and won $225 in prize money.

The bowlers suspended for their part in the "Champion of Champions" tournament affair were Captain Fred Borghi, William Ely, Alvin Ely, George Soffa, Peter Howard and Joseph Doherty.

Charles C. Omela, conductor of a tournament at the North End Recreation, was suspended for advertising that his event was "sanctioned" by the ABC when in reality he had not applied for an ABC sanction.

Used False Averages
John Sturgis, secretary of the Great Lakes Steel "C" League, and two of its members, Frank Keedy and John Gwardinski, were suspended for submission and use of false averages in a tournament. Joseph Kerridge Jr., Irvin Notley and Tony Yaquinto were suspended for misappropriation of league funds.

The suspended bowlers can apply for reinstatement through the

DBA. The action of the local group and its recommendation then would go to the ABC, with the national governing body making the final decision.

Unbeaten Quint Leads Tourney

QUINCY, Ill. (P) — Unbeaten Illinois Wesleyan and Quincy meet in the top game of the Quincy Holiday Basketball Tournament which begins today with all eight teams seeing action.

Wesleyan, on a string of seven successive victories, defeated Quincy 88-69 earlier this year but might find the Hawks tougher on their home floor where they have three straight victories.

The tourney opens with St. Ambrose going against Kirkville in the first game and Illinois Normal pitted against Loras.

The Illinois Wesleyan - Quincy contest follows, with Western Illinois and Monmouth rounding out opening day activities.

Western has won four of five games and has defeated two of the tournament teams, Kirkville and Loras.

Quincy also holds decisions over Kirkville and Loras while Illinois Normal trounced the host team earlier this season, 103-74. Normal has a record of four victories and two defeats.

All eight teams are slated for action Wednesday with the losers and winners meeting and the tournament ends Thursday night with a consolation game followed by the championship contest.

Schlundt Is Trailing Buckeye Robin Freeman

CHICAGO (P) — Indiana's Don Schlundt, Big Ten scoring leader for the last two seasons, has moved into second place in the Western Conference scoring race; 38 points behind Ohio State's Robin Freeman.

Freeman, the 5-foot-11 Buckeye, scored 57 points in two games to run his league-leading total to 218. Schlundt moved ahead of Dick Cable of Wisconsin with a 58-point outburst in two games.

Cable had no chance to improve on his 149 points since Wisconsin has not played in the last seven days.

Minnesota's Dick Garmaker who added 30 points Monday night against Wake Forest moved into fourth place with 140.

Wife Dies After Night In Ditch

GALLIPOLIS, Ohio (AP)—A Michigan woman, trapped for more than seven hours with her husband in an overturned automobile in a water-filled ditch, died Christmas Day just after being rescued.

Mrs. Estelle Overstreet, 56, of Williams Lake near Pontiac, died in an ambulance on her way to Holzer Hospital here. Her husband, Robert, also 56, is suffering from exposure and shock but is reported in "good" condition.

Their automobile overturned about midnight Christmas Eve in a ditch on U. S. 35, a highly traveled highway between Dayton, Ohio, and Charleston, W. Va. They were on their way to visit a daughter, Mrs. Homer A. Thurman Jr., of Cedar Grove, about 20 miles from Charleston.

Throughout the night-long ordeal Overstreet held his wife's head out of the water which seeped into the car from the ditch. A passing motorist discovered the couple and called for help.

Coroner Donald R. Warehime said Mrs. Overstreet died from exposure and shock.

Overstreet said he never lost consciousness though his wife was unconscious when taken from the automobile.

"I screamed for help until my voice was gone," he said.

Red Tide Washes Japan's Shores

If Russia ever moves against Japan, Hokkaido, most northerly Japanese island, would be in sore straits. It is surrounded on three sides by Soviet territory. West is the Siberian coast; north, the island of Sakhalin, less than 30 miles away; to the northeast, the 650-mile-long Kuril chain makes the Sea of Okhotsk a Russian lake. Russians have modernized old Japanese fortifications on the Kurils. Vladivostok, major Soviet military base, is only 400 miles—on hour's flight—across the Sea of Japan.

New Year's Eve Party Can Be Gay Without Expense

FOR A GAY NEW YEAR'S EVE BUFFET—noisemakers and hats, "Bright Future" pattern in silver and plenty of substantial food.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Lots of people would like to give a gay New Year's Eve party but fear it must be elaborate and expensive. That's not so. Actually, a wise hostess can entertain on a small budget and everyone have fun.

We asked a successful party give, Mrs. Douglas Mackie Thomas of Colmar, Pa., how she would give a budget party to welcome 1955.

"Make your guests feel really welcome the moment they arrive. Greet them under the mistletoe with a fond embrace," she advises. "And have a punch bowl or other beverages ready when the doorbell rings."

Mrs. Thomas give two budget menus everyone will enjoy.

Menu No. 1: Beef-tomato consomme, crackers, chicken a la king, buttered bread fingers, individual ice cream molds, coffee or tea.

Beef-Tomato Consomme for 12: To 6 cans of consomme add 3 cans of tomato or blended vegetable juices; heat and season to taste. Serve piping hot.

Chicken a la king for 12: Six tablespoons butter or margarine, 6 tablespoons flour, 6 dashes of white pepper, 1½ teaspoon salt, 3 teaspoons paprika, 6 cups milk or diluted evaporated milk, 1½ cups cream 6 cups cooked chicken, cut into pieces, 12 olives, sliced; 6 pimientos, chopped.

Melt butter or margarine in top of double boiler, blend in flour add pepper, salt and paprika. Add milk and cream gradually, stirring constantly until thickened. Beat well. Add chicken, olives and pimientos. Cook for 15 minutes and serve on toast. For a gourmet touch, add 4 tablespoons sherry just before serving, if desired.

Menu No. 2: Cream of tomato soup, oven-grilled frankfurters with baked pork and beans, buttered brown bread fingers, individual fruit tarts, coffee or tea.

Serve all your food from the buffet table self-service style. The center of the table can be attractively decorated with a bowl of fresh fruit. Place soup tureen, soup cups, soup spoons and napkins at one end of the table. Next to the main dish have a stack of plates, knives and forks.

Bright Future, a new modern pattern in flat silverware, would certainly be appropriate for your New Year's Eve buffet. If the budget permits, add green olives, celery and radishes, salted nuts, assorted chocolates and after-dinner mints.

Often a man and his New Year's resolutions go broke together.

Landslide Victory Of Democrats Voted No. 1 Story Of 1954

DETROIT (AP)—Michigan's November election, a smashing victory for the Democrats, was a landslide choice as the state's biggest news story of 1954.

The political surprise which swept Republicans out of virtually every high state office drew the No. 1 vote of all but five of the newspaper editors and radio-television newsmen who took part in an Associated Press poll to pick the year's 10 top Michigan stories.

Straits Bridge Second

The biggest upset of the election was the defeat of Sen. Homer Ferguson, a high-ranking national Republican figure, by Democrat Patrick V. McNamara, a political unknown outside of Detroit. In addition, Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams won a fourth term with ease and carried his entire "cabinet" slate into office with him.

Only two other stories during the year challenged the election for first place votes. One was the start on construction of the long-discussed Straits of Mackinac bridge, which three poll participants picked as No. 1. The other was the sensational triangle slaying of New York playboy Jules Lack by Dr. Kenneth Small at a swank Lake Michigan summer home. That got two first place votes.

Both stories ran strong for runner-up honors and the Straits bridge story was given second place by a narrow margin.

The top 10 stories are chosen on the basis of 10 votes for first choice, nine for second, eight for third and so forth.

Moody Death Rates High

The final tabulation showed the election received 217 points. The Straits bridge got 162 and the Dr. Small case 153.

Another story of political significance—the untimely death of Blair Moody—was placed fourth. Moody died virtually on the eve of the Aug. 3 primary election, leaving the Democratic senatorial nomination to McNamara uncontested. Up to then Moody, who had been a U. S. senator by appointment of Gov. Williams, was favored to win the nomination to oppose Ferguson.

Rounding out the first five was the dramatic escape and recapture of 13 long-term convicts from Southern Michigan Prison. Their desperate flight, with two women as hostages, was one of the most spectacular in prison history.

Also in the top 10 were:

6. A significant State Supreme Court decision making state equalization the basis for local property taxes.

7. The "solution" of the attempted assassination six years ago of labor leader Walter Reuther and the eventual evaporation of leads stemming from the stories of one Donald Ritchie.

8. Mergers involving every auto industry "independent" in a bid to battle stiff competition from the "Big Three."

Bingo In Spotlight

9. The long and bitter controversy over bingo, climaxed by a statewide vote Nov. 2 against a move to legalize lotteries for charity.

10. Defense Secretary C. E. Wilson's famous "bird dog" remark, which touched off a nationwide controversy over the Republican administration's attitude toward unemployment.

Other stories which figured considerably in the balloting included: The conviction of six Michigan Communist leaders under the Smith Act.

The slaying of Kalamazoo State Hospital nurse Marilyn Kraai by a mental patient.

Tragic holiday weekend traffic death tolls and efforts to curb them.

The Detroit Lions' winning of their third straight National Football League divisional championship before their defeat in the league playoff game.

General Motors' production of its 50 millionth car.

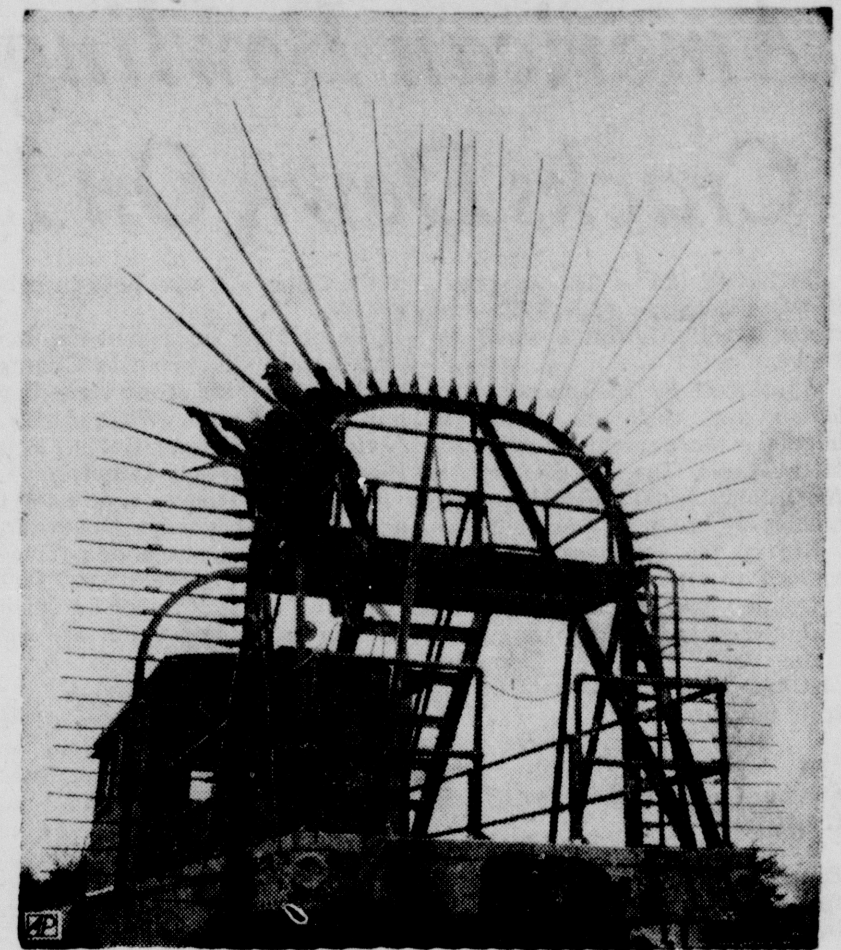

Dig That Ivy!

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Walter Frankowski have a unique problem when they move to their new home next week. Mrs. Frankowski bought a 10-inch ivy plant seven years ago, has become attached to it, and wants to take it with her—undamaged.

No problem, you snort? This plant has grown to the ceiling and has completely encircled the walls of Mrs. Frankowski's 19 by 22 foot living room.

Barge Sailors Look For New Vocations

LONDON (AP)—Shipping men are trying to find a regular job for one of the Thames River's vanishing fleet of red-sailed barges, the last sailing ships to ply European waters.

Once more than 1,000 of the graceful "sailor-men" traded between London and coastal ports. Now all but 30 have been broken up or converted to motorships—and those 30 are dwindling every week.

The shipping men have set up three committees. They plan to raise a fund to subsidize one of the barges and so keep it in commission.

TWO NOTABLE POINTS

There are two points worth noting about the hand below—both simple, but both of recurring importance.

South dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.

♠ 763	♥ J9	♦ A75	♣ AK843
♠ J10	♥ Q8542	♦ K632	♣ 95
♠ 988	♥ A73	♦ J109	♣ QJ62
♠ AK542	♥ K106	♦ Q84	♣ 107

The bidding:
South West North East
1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass
2 ♠ Pass 4 ♠ Pass

The first simple point concerns the bidding, specifically North's jump spade raise on the second round. Many players, mistaught to take a very conservative view about trump support, would equivocate with a raise to only three spades—and by so doing would give their partners an insoluble problem, whether to pass or press to game. North's four-spade bid was correct in the light of South's spade rebid.

The fact that South did not make four spades was no reflection on North's bidding. It was South's weak play that was responsible—and which forms our second point.

West's lead was a low heart; East put up the ace and returned a heart. South won with the king and promptly ruffed his remaining heart—but from that time on he had no real chance for the contract. He ended up by conceding the heart trick, one trump and two diamonds.

South should have deferred his heart ruff until it would do him more good. The logical line was to draw two rounds of trumps, to cash the two club honors and ruff a club, and then to trump the heart on the table. Now, making use of this entry to dummy when it would return full value, South should ruff another club, lead to the diamond ace and discard a diamond on the established fifth club. If East chose to ruff this trick, he would simply be using up the high trump.
